CITY OFFICERS APPOINTED FOR 2 YEARS MORE

J. A. McVittie, city manager, T. H. Carlson, city attorney and J. C. Paris, city clerk, will again serve the City of Richmond in their official capacity for the next two years.

By the unanimous vote of the council at its meeting last evening, the three officials were re-appointed to the positions they now hold.

The appointments came as a reward for faithful and meritorious service, and will undoubtedly meet with general approval.

McVittie has been in the employ of the city of Richmond for the past eighteen years. For the first ten years he was city auditor, and for the past eight years has served as city manager. In point of service McVittie is one of the oldest city managers in the state, and during his term of office has made an enviable record.

It has been during his term of office that the development of the harbor has taken place, and the inauguration of the operation of the municipal bathhouse. Many other projects have been carried out, through the guidance and advice of the city manager.

The past two years, during the time that Carlson has acted as city attorney, history for the City of Richmond has been made. Legal matters of the utmost importance have been handled by him, with great credit to himself. Matters involving millions of dollars have been passed on by Carlson for the City of Richmond, in which the interests of the city have been amply protected, and which have brought warm words of praise for the official from outsiders.

It was also to be expected that Paris would be re-appointed as his years of service with the city has placed him in a position where his knowledge of the records of the city and matters connected with city affairs is valuable to those doing business with the city.

Next Monday night the heads of the different departments of the city government will be made on the recommendation of City Manager McVittie. It is not anticipated at this time that any changes will be made.

Arthur W. Thompson, 56, and Mrs. Emma P. Smith, both of Richmond, filed application for a marriage license in Martinez yesterday.

Democratic Headquarters Roused As Man Fires Gun In Crowded Elevators

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOUSTON, June 25.—(U.P.)—The Rice Hotel, convention headquarters, was startled late today when a man apparently afflicted by heat or liquor fired shots on two floors of the hotel. Seven bullet holes were made in the last elevator door on the fifth floor and it was said the guest had also fired shots on the eleventh floor.

Policemen rushed through the hotel in search of the man and the management stated later he had been apprehended.

The hotel was jammed to capacity. In the lower corridor hundreds milled about.

Word of the firing spread quickly and there was much excitement. As near as could be learned early in the evening the man started on the eleventh floor and fired there. Then making his way down

AVIATOR IS STRANDED ON ARCTIC FLOE

PARIS, June 25.—(U.P.)—An unconfirmed report published in the newspaper L'Information says the Russian ice breaker Krassin has established radio communication with Rold Amundsen and that Russian aviators are planning to go to his rescue.

The report, under a Moscow date line, declares the Krassin will seek to find the lost explorer, using a Junkers airplane. The report was absolutely without confirmation.

VIRGO BAY, Spitzbergen, June 25.—(U.P.)—The Swedish aviator, Lt. Einar-Tal Lundberg, who rescued General Nobile from the crumbling ice floe on which he had lived for nearly a month, was himself a prisoner of the Arctic tonight with his airplane wrecked near Nobile's encampment.

After rescuing Nobile, Lundberg flew along to the rescue of Nobile's five companions leaving his observer-mechanic, Fritz Syberg behind. On the second trip, however, he crashed on a small area of floating ice and was wrecked. (Continued on Page 3.)

Found In Treacherous Northland

LT. EINHART (left) and Capt. Rold Amundsen (right) were located yesterday by a rescue ship. Grave concern had been felt for the two men since their disappearance on a search for General Umberto Nobile.

BODY OF DEAD MAN FOUND IN BERKELEY HILL

Local and Eastbay police were confronted with a mystery yesterday with the finding in the Berkeley hills of the partly decayed body of an unidentified man.

The remains are at the Wilson and Kratzer mortuary awaiting autopsy today when an effort will be made to determine cause of death.

The body, lying in the thick underbrush off the Wildcat Creek road, two miles from Berkeley, was discovered by Louis Morley, 2516 California street, and John Devanier, 2511 California street, Berkeley, and two other lads who were playing in the hills. Berkeley police were summoned and they notified the Wilson and Kratzer office. An ambulance was dispatched to the scene and the remains were brought to Richmond.

Authorities advance the belief that the man probably took his own life, as there were no direct marks of identification on the body with the exception of a Masonic pin and a signet ring. The last two letters on the ring were the initials "E. W." The first letter was obscured, and the ring will be turned over to a local jeweler today for inspection. In determining the full identity, investigators will be presented with the first clue to the man's identity.

Berkeley police yesterday were checking up on missing men, but were unsuccessful in learning anything which might prove the identity of the man.

Police are of the opinion that the man was in fairly comfortable (Continued on Page Eight)

Terrace Avenue Building May Be Condemned

The building on Terrace avenue, at the west side, is not in such a condition that it could be condemned, is the report Fire Chief Cooper made to the council, at its meeting last evening.

Complaints had been made to the council about the condition of the building, and it was claimed that it was a menace to adjoining property.

Cooper stated the building had not been occupied for several years, and was open and abandoned. The owner of it is in the army and it is believed so soon as he can be got in touch with, that he will consent to have some disposition made of the structure.

BUILDING IN BIG INCREASE

Increased building activity was in prospect for Richmond as permits issued Monday by Building Inspector A. J. Hurley took a favorable increase.

The largest single permit was for the construction of a $5000 cottage and garage. It will be built in Clinton avenue between Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets by J. W. Garside. Thomas P. Bolger is the contractor.

T. Righter and Barnhart received a permit for the construction of a cottage and garage to cost $3200. It will be erected in McLaughlin avenue between Sierra and Clinton.

The commission also authorized the Parr Terminal corporation, which is a public utility, permission to sign up the contracts for the new harbor unit.

The directors of the Parr company will meet this morning and formally execute the contracts, which were informally awarded some weeks ago.

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 25.—(Col.)—J. B. W. Stewart, chairman of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury here today on charges of perjury arising from his testimony before the Senate Teapot Dome investigating committee.

Two weeks ago, Stewart was acquitted by a District Supreme Court jury on a contempt of the Senate charge growing out of the same investigation.

BOULEVARD OPENED

An ordinance was adopted at the meeting of the council last evening providing for the opening of Panhandle boulevard, and the bringing of condemnation proceedings to secure the necessary property.

TENTH STREET PAVING BALKED

Tenth street, between Macdonald avenue and Santa Fe tracks will be improved, just as soon as the property owners in that section are able to get together and determine just what they desire to have done.

This was the action taken at the meeting of the council last evening, and the petition for the work was laid over for one week.

First, the property owners asked to have the street widened and improved, then objection was made to the widening, but with the request that the street be paved.

During the past week City Engineer Hoffman was instructed to interview the property owners and ascertain their wishes. His report was made last evening. Out of a frontage of 2775 feet, the property owners with a frontage of 1400 feet were interviewed. Seven hundred and seventy-five feet favored improving without widening. 25 feet wanted paving and widening. 50 feet were neutral and 550 feet were opposed to any work at all.

As each petition that has been presented to the council has asked for a different project, the members decided to take no action at the present time.

It was said today he would not be able to leave Washington for his home in Palo Alto, California, before July 10. Until Hoover makes his acceptance speech Republican campaigners must avoid the issue.

When Hoover leaves Washington for California it is expected he will make many rear platform appearances, but no speeches during the long rail trip. He also plans to visit with President Coolidge at Brule, Wisconsin on his way west.

RAOUL WALSH WINS HONORS IN FILM HERE

When Raoul Walsh was assigned the task of directing "Loves of Carmen" for Fox Films he was overjoyed. Of course, any director would have felt great satisfaction to have such a dramatic plot given him, but in the case of Walsh this was unbounded.

The reason for this is the fact that years ago, when the director first abandoned the grease paint for the megaphone, one of his primary endeavors was "Carmen." Picture making at that time was in an embryonic stage, so naturally Walsh's anticipation of what he could do at the present time was great.

The first "Carmen" was made in eighteen days. Walsh was called to the office of William Fox on Saturday and told he was to make "Carmen." From Saturday until Monday the picture was cast. A scenario was written; locations were selected; costumes were obtained; a schedule worked out and all arrangements necessary for the making of a picture were completed. Then, on Monday, the picture was cast.

Monday found the company at work. Two and one-half weeks later the completed picture was being previewed by Fox executives.

Witness the difference in the new version, which opened last night at the California Theatre for two days. Last time today.

Six months were spent in preparation alone. The story was written and rewritten until every rough spot had been smoothed over. Special emissaries were sent to Spain to gather costumes. This attention to detail took up the better part of a year.

With all the physical detail taken on care of, Raoul Walsh and Fox executives turned to the casting of the principal roles. In the case of "Lovers of Carmen" the selection was comparatively simple. This talented actress had been considered for the title role for months. Don Juan, who recent triumphs have placed him on the preferred list, was cast in the role of Don Jose. The part of Escamillo, the bullfighter, was made of scores of prominent actors; dozens of others were interviewed. Then came the unexpected—Victor McCarty was chosen to play Escamillo.

Other film features include "Jungle Heat," A Marmaduke comedy. Topics of the Day, Scenic.

Marine Falls in Love With Girl He Saves

"Streets of Shanghai" a T. H. Stahel production was shown here for the first time yesterday at the Richmond theatre before a highly enthusiastic audience who seemingly enjoyed every minute of this picture of that mysterious city of the Orient. It is one of those film plays that gives to the film fan the thrills they so much enjoy—having in its dramatic unfolding an element of mystery which is held together by its cleverness, deft touches and happy interest appeal.

Outstanding in the cast of players is Pauline Starke, who is featured in this production, and her work as the American teacher in a Chinese mission and her scenes involving the emotions is highly creditable.

The story tells of a wealthy, detail, exquisite settings and wonderful photographic effects. The dramatic events in the lives of the two main characters, an American teacher and a Chinese girl, are so full of interest and power that the audience is kept in a state of suspense until the very end.

The teacher, in an attempt to save a Chinese girl from a notorious resort is helped in the rescue by a handsome Marine who, with his buddies, go to the aid of the fair maid. The Marine is instantly smitten by the teacher's beauty and he in turn is coveted by a girl of doubtful reputation.

Other film features include "Buster's Home Life," a comedy from the Key System Transist Company, which handles the transist passengers of the Short Line.

They stepped up before the door of an old, red-brick building. From the outside it looked as though no sign of life existed. Blinds were drawn; shutters closed. Simpson reached up and pushed a button. In a few moments the door opened, emitting a narrow crack of light.

Then it swung wide, revealing a long flight of steps, at the bottom of which stood a heavy, red-faced man with a deep scar across his chin, a derby hat resting on the back of his plump neck.

"Hello, boys!" the man greeted them as they stepped inside.

"Hello, Bill. What's new?" Simpson asked.

"Nothin' much. Come on in." The man addressed as Bill threw open a door to one side of the stairs and led the two detectives into a long, narrow room. On one side was a bar, stretching almost the entire length of the room, while behind it three bar-keeps rustled drinks for the line of customers leaning against the mahogany top. Towards the rear stood a group of well-filled tables.

Cowles glanced quickly around the room, and then, signaling Simpson, dropped into a vacant spot along the bar.

"Well, what'll it be, boys?" Bill invited. "Louis!" he called one of the white-aproned men behind the bar. "Two ryes with ginger-ale on the side," he repeated the order of the detectives. "Gimme a little Scotch. What's down to you in 'front set up?" he asked as the bar-keep set up the glasses and bottles.

"Na, na," he answered, as Cowles reached into his pocket. "This is on 't-house. Say, got any line on that Mercer Bank racket?"

"Well, I'll tell you, Bill," Cowles began, speaking more loudly than was necessary. "The chief thinks we got a pretty good tip on it." Glancing sideways, he could see Maurey hunching up his shoulders, leaning his elbows on the bar and resting his head on his hand. "You haven't had any customers for straw ball for that Shannon girl, have you?"

"Nope. Say, she's a funny one. Well, here's how!" He picked up his glass and drained it.

"She sure is," Cowles took up the conversation again, turning into the desired channels. "But I guess the chief's story's straight enough. The chief's letting her go tomorrow morning."

"Yeh! Is that right?" "Sure. No use holding her. He's got the goods on the right gang, now. He was just talking to him."

And from where he stood he could see Maurey edging towards the door.

Fares On Short Line Are Raised

Commutation fares on the Sacramento Short Line between Pittsburg and San Francisco will be increased $1.30 monthly by a decision rendered by the state railroad commission. There will be no increase in the non-commutation rates between Pittsburg and Oakland and points between. The advance in the San Francisco commutation fare, effective July 1, results from the granting of an increase to the Key System Transit Company, which handles the transist passengers of the Short Line.

EL CERRITO COMMISSIONER BARES PLAN TO FORM BODY AS ADVISORY TO CITY BOARD

In reporting on the improving of the city park in the Berkeley Country Club Terrace tract, at the meeting of the council of El Cerrito Monday night, Park Commissioner Peter Larsen stated that he had no plans made as yet after his vacation he proposes to submit to the council the plan of creating a planning commission composed of ten women and men with an advisory member from the council to take charge of the parks and playgrounds and the beautifying of the city.

Complaint of Henry Vitt, 1112 Pomona street, that the people had damaged his strawberry patch and fence to the extent of $100 in trying to connect up with the power on his property and wanted the repairs made was referred to Councilman Charles Zimmerman and City Engineer Ross L. Caffee.

Creation of a board of trustees for the library will probably be made next Monday when Mayor Phil A. Lee instructed City Attorney J. H. Peters to draw up a resolution creating a library board and fixing the terms of the members.

The application of W. E. Cole for a position as janitor for the library was laid over until the library trustees are appointed.

On a petition from all of the salaried employees of the city, the council passed a motion to pay their employees twice a month instead of once a month.

Henry Molino was denied a soft drink stand on the recommendation of Chief of Police R. R. Check, whose report stated that Molino had been fined $200 a few years ago on a liquor charge.

Application for a soft drink stand by Ed Mueller at Potrero and San Pablo avenues, was referred to Chief of Police R. R. Check for one week.

On complaint of Councilman Peter Larsen, that the inspector on street improvement in the Berkeley Country Club Terrace tract did not understand oil macadam paving, Engineer Ross L. Caffee was instructed to employ some one conversant with that type of paving.

Redmen Baseball Club Beaten By Pinole Outfit

Onetah tribe of Redmen failed to win the return game with the Shenandoah tribe of Pinole played Sunday morning at First street park. In the afternoon, the members of both tribes enjoyed a barbecue and picnic at Alvarado park. Entertainment was furnished by Kip Morrell and the picnic committee was Frank Shubert, chairman, Manuel Pacheco and Dan Noziglia.

BODY OF DEAD MAN FOUND IN BERKELEY HILL

circumstances. He is described as being five feet eight inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds. His face had a two-day growth of beard. His complexion was fair; his hair gray and thick. The man wore a starched collar, blue polka dot tie, and was dressed in a brown suit.

The suicide theory carries heavy weight with investigators owing to the absence of papers in the man's clothes, which might furnish a clue to his identity.

The remains will be held here pending a thorough investigation. Authorities were at first inclined to believe the man had been a victim of foul play, as he had apparently been thrashing around the underbrush, indicating a fight had taken place. Closer inspection, however, failed to reveal any marks on the man's body that might have come from a death grapple with an assailant.

Police Plan For Crockett Is Rejected

Holding that opinion as it was expressed in counter petitions signed by overwhelming opposition to the plan, the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, today denied a plan for formation of a police district at Crockett, proposed first by the Crockett-Valona Business mens Association.

Before voting on denial of the plan, members of the board explained their attitude by declaring that petitioners favoring the project numbered 100 while the petition of protestants contained the names of more than 60 persons.

Proponents of the plan urged the supervisors to organize the district and then call an election to let property owners decide if they desired to vote taxes to support it.

Protestants of the plan declared the district is already well policed and said the cost of maintenance of the district would entail a considerable increase in taxes.

TEXAS REFUSES TO SUBMIT TO DRY PLATFORM

By PAUL E. MALLON
UNITED PRESS Staff Correspondent
HOUSTON, Texas, June 25.—(U.P.)—A boy Bryan in the person of Governor Dan Moody of Texas rose today from the determined dyes gathered here for the Democratic National Convention and served notice on the dominant forces of Governor Alfred E. Smith that "the South would tolerate no tampering with prohibition. The Smith forces calmly counted well on toward 700 delegates noses for the first ballot and privately reassured everyone the prohibition issue would be settled amicably in due time.

While they declined to doff officially the silence with which they have clothed themselves since they have been here, they indicated they would accept a strong enforcement plank and please everybody.

The dries themselves think the Smith people will fall in line. They were frightened into activity during the last two days because of unofficial intimations that Tammany might offer a "beer and light wines" or modification plank. The dries do not want a fight any more than the wets. But they do not want to support Smith this fall on a platform that questions what they consider a basic southern principle.

Furthermore they want to make a record of having put Smith on an enforcement plank. They want to tell the people back home they found it impossible to stop Smith and therefore did the next best thing.

They called Moody over from Austin had him rally the discordant southern leaders and issue a statement this morning laying down the southern law to Tammany.

"The serious thought of the south is in favor of prohibition and its enforcement," said Moody, "and in my judgment if any improvements are to be made in the prohibition laws, they should be made by the friends of prohibition. No attempt on the part of the enemies of prohibition to emasculate the laws can be tolerated."

"I do not believe that the delegates from other sections of the country will be controlled by the environs of the few places in the country that are opposed to prohibition, but it is my judgment that they will recognize the serious thought of the south wherein is the heart and soul of the Democratic party."

"No attempt should be made to draw an overdraft on the Democratic loyalty of the south."

The statement did not sever diplomatic relations with the Smith people nor carry any dire threats but it let the world know the 32 year old official host of the convention and a fighter for prohibition had taken up the representation and stepped out to represent it in a pinch when more experienced southern leaders were, seeing the necessity of talking harmony.

Some of the dries were lamenting there was no William Jennings Bryan to take up the cudgel for their cause.

"What difference to the situation would it make if we had a Bryan," they said.

And then came Moody. His statement carried the au-

Santa Fe Train Periled By Lads

What was at first thought by officials to be an attempt to wreck a Santa Fe train was later believed to be but a prank of small boys. Sunday night, train No. 9 was brought to a quick stop by the engineer when he saw obstructions on the track near the Vine Mill station. Several rocks and 2x4 planks were found on the track. The train is due at Muir at 6:00 p. m.

Low Cost Protection

WHEN the first safe deposit vaults were built a few decades ago the customer paid dearly for the privilege of renting a private box. The cost, in some cities, was forty dollars a year and upward, and the safeguards were nothing to boast of. Today a box in any vault of the American Trust Company may be rented for one-tenth of that cost, and the protection afforded valuable articles is the greatest that modern science has ever devised.
